

LAB COORDINATOR AND INSTRUCTOR
DEPARTMENT OF KINESIOLOGY
(Non-Tenure Track, 9-month)

Revised: Application deadline extended from December 15, 2023 to January 16, 2024

Samford University's School of Health Professions invites applicants interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for the position of Lab Coordinator and Instructor in the Department of Kinesiology. This non-tenure-track faculty position is a 9-month appointment and will begin in Fall 2024. The major responsibilities of the lab coordinator and instructor are to coordinate all aspects of the operations of the Kinesiology laboratories, teach undergraduate didactic courses, and engage in scholarship and service. Additional responsibilities may include, but are not limited to: assisting with program assessment, accreditation standards and reports, curriculum development and assessment, and student mentoring.

Qualified candidates will hold a master's or higher graduate degree in exercise science or health-related field. Preferred candidates have a) current Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist through National Strength and Conditioning Association; b) previous teaching or research presentation experience; c) experience with exercise-based laboratory equipment and techniques. A commitment to academic excellence and the ability to work and communicate effectively with faculty, students and colleagues are expected.

The College of Health Sciences includes four schools: School of Health Professions, Moffett & Sanders School of Nursing, McWhorter School of Pharmacy, and School of Public Health. The College offers multiple degree programs and majors within the health sciences with an inter-professional education focus that reflects today's team approach to health care delivery and professional practice.
